

1. Hello, this is 6 Minute English from BBC Learning English.

Hello, this is "6 Minute English" from BBC Learning English.

2. I'm Neil.

我叫尼尔。

3. And I'm Pippa.

而我叫皮帕。

4. Whatever you think of social media, in less than a generation it has changed the internet.

无论你对社交媒体有何看法，在不到一代人的时间里，它已经彻底改变了互联网。

5. Facebook, Twitter and in the early days MySpace used to be places to post messages to friends or share photos of your breakfast.

Facebook、Twitter，以及在早期还有人使用MySpace，这些平台都是用来给朋友发消息或分享自己早餐照片的地方。

6. But with the rise of AI, the fun of connecting with friends changed into something much stranger, as Tristan and Asma, presenters of BBC World Service programme The Global Story, found out.

但随着人工智能的兴起，与朋友们建立联系的这种乐趣却发生了翻天覆地的变化——正如BBC世界服务节目《全球故事》的主持人特里斯坦和阿斯玛所发现的那样。

7. Oh, what is this?

哦，这是什么？

8. I think it's a man who's supposed to look like Jesus.

我认为应该是一个长得像耶稣的男人。

9. It's a man who looks a bit like... Who also looks like his dog.

这是一个长得有点像.....而且也和他自己的狗很像的男子。

10. He's been AI'd, right?

他已经被人工智能化了，对吧？

11. Has to be AI'd.

必须通过人工智能技术来实现。

12. He's holding his dog and his face looks like his dog, so he's half Jesus, half dog.

他抱着自己的狗，他的脸看起来就像那只狗，所以他一半像耶稣，一半像狗。

13. A half-dog, half-Jesus photo is generated by AI and posted online.

一张半狗半耶稣的照片由人工智能生成并发布到了网上。

14. It's an example of how the use of AI in social media has evolved so much that today it's hard to know what's created by humans and what's not.

这是一个例子，它说明了人工智能在社交媒体中的应用已经发展到了如此地步，以至于如今

人们已经很难区分哪些内容是人工创作的，哪些内容并非如此。

15. In this episode, we'll discuss how social media is changing in the age of AI and, as usual, we'll learn some useful new words and phrases.

在这一集中，我们将探讨在人工智能时代，社交媒体正在发生哪些变化。而且像往常一样，我们还会学习一些有用的新词汇和短语。

16. And remember, you'll find all the vocabulary along with a transcript on our website bbclearningenglish.com.

请记住，你可以在我们的网站bbclearningenglish.com上找到所有这些词汇以及相应的文本记录。

17. But first, I have a question for you, Pippa.

但首先，我有个问题要问你，皮帕。

18. You mentioned MySpace as one of the earlier social media platforms, but the first electronic message was actually sent much earlier, in 1844, using a series of dots and dashes tapped out by hand on a telegraph wire.

你提到MySpace是较早出现的社交媒体平台之一，但实际上，第一封电子消息早在1844年就被发送出来了，当时人们是通过在电报线上手动敲击一系列点划符号来传递信息。

19. So, what was this new form of communication called?

那么，这种新的交流方式被称为什么呢？

20. Was it a semaphore, b dial-up, or c morse code?

它是信号灯吗？还是拨号连接方式？又或者是摩尔斯电码？

21. I think Morse code.

我想是摩尔斯电码。

22. OK, we'll find out the answer later.

好的，我们稍后会找到答案。

23. The introduction of AI has turned some users away from social media.

人工智能的引入使得一些用户不再使用社交媒体。

24. Indeed, a recent report found that social media activity peaked in 2022 and has been going down ever since.

的确，最近的一份报告指出，社交媒体的使用活动在2022年达到了顶峰，此后一直在持续下降。

25. Millennial and digital native Kyle Chaker is a writer specialising in social media.

千禧一代且生来就熟悉数字技术的凯尔·查克是一位专门研究社交媒体的作家。

26. He spoke about the problem to Tristan Redmond for BBC World Service programme The Global Story.

他就这个问题与特里斯坦·雷德蒙德进行了交谈，这些内容被收录在BBC世界服务台的节目《全球故事》中。

27. Okay, Carl, was there a moment for you when you felt like social media changed?

好的，卡尔，有没有那么一刻，你觉得社交媒体确实带来了变化？

28. Oh, man.

哦，天啊。

29. I mean, in 2015, 2016, I think, in the United States, when Twitter became the hub of Twitter,

我的意思是，在2015年、2016年，我觉得在美国，当Twitter成为人们交流的中心时.....

30. election discourse.

竞选演讲。

31. It kind of shattered the illusion that the internet was a space you could go to just like have fun and express yourself and find cool friends and discuss the latest cultural happenings.

这在某种程度上打破了这样一种幻想：互联网是一个你可以去尽情享受、表达自我、结交有趣的朋友以及讨论最新文化动态的空间。

32. Kyle uses the informal expression, oh man, an exclamation showing excitement or enthusiasm.

凯尔用了“哦，天哪”这个非正式表达，这是一种用来表达兴奋或热情的感叹词。

33. He remembers the internet in 2016, when Twitter was full of angry political debate about the US elections.

他记得2016年的互联网，那时推特上充斥着关于美国大选的激烈政治辩论。

34. For Kyle, this shattered the illusion that the internet was fun.

对凯尔来说，这一经历彻底打破了他认为互联网很有趣的这种错觉。

35. If something shatters your illusions, it destroys a false belief you hold, making you realise an unpleasant truth.

如果某些事情打破了你的幻想，那么它们就会摧毁你所持有的那些错误的信念，迫使你面对一个令人不快的真相。

36. Kyle thinks social media was friendlier before, an online space to make friends, have fun and discuss the latest cultural happenings.

Kyle认为，社交媒体在以前更加友好，它是一个用来交朋友、享受乐趣以及探讨最新文化动态的在线平台。

37. A cultural happening is an event that embodies the values and interests of a particular group at a particular time in history.

一种文化现象是指在历史上的某个特定时期，能够体现某个特定群体价值观与利益诉求的活动或事件。

38. For example, the hit television show Game of Thrones was a cultural happening for millennials in the 2010s.

例如，热门电视剧《权力的游戏》在21世纪10年代对千禧一代来说堪称一场文化现象。

39. So what's the future of social media?

那么，社交媒体的未来会是什么样子呢？

40. Will the amount of AI-generated content continue to grow?

人工智能生成的内容量会继续增加吗？

41. Here's Kyle Chaker again, sharing his thoughts with BBC World Service's The Global Story.

这是凯尔·查克再次与BBC世界服务的《全球故事》栏目分享他的观点。

42. We see the large social networks and the tech behemoths leaning into generated content.

我们看到，那些大型社交网络以及科技巨头们都在积极投身于生成式内容的创作中。

43. And I think users don't actually want that.

而且我认为用户实际上并不想要那样。

44. I think it's a novelty for now and people will drift away from it.

我认为目前这还只是一种新奇事物，人们很快就会对它失去兴趣。

45. So instead, I see people gravitating towards smaller online spaces, connecting more closely with individual voices like creator types, and just posting less in general.

因此，相反地，我看到人们倾向于选择较小的在线空间，与诸如创作者这类个体更加紧密地建立联系，而且总体上发帖的数量也减少了。

46. Kyle thinks the tech behemoths – meaning large and powerful companies – will continue pushing AI.

凯尔认为，科技巨头——也就是那些规模庞大、实力雄厚的企业——将继续推动人工智能的发展。

47. However, many people want content which is more personal and meaningful.

然而，许多人渴望获得更具个性化且富有意义的内容。

48. They think AI is a novelty – something which is new and unusual and therefore exciting, but which probably won't last.

他们认为人工智能只是一种新奇的事物——某种新鲜、不寻常因而令人兴奋的东西，但这种趋势很可能不会持续太久。

49. Instead, Kyle thinks people will gravitate towards smaller online communities.

相反，凯尔认为人们会倾向于加入规模较小的在线社区。

50. If you gravitate towards something, you are naturally drawn or attracted to it.

如果你对某事物产生了兴趣或倾向，那么你自然而然地会被它吸引。

51. Social media has changed fast and is still in motion.

社交媒体发展迅速，而且仍在不断变化中。

52. It's come a long way from the first electronic messages of 1844, which you mentioned in your question, Neil.

从1844年那些最初的电子消息开始，这项技术已经取得了长足的进展——你在问题中也提到了这一点，尼尔。

53. So, did I get the correct answer?

那么，我得到的答案是正确的吗？

54. I asked what this new form of communication was and you said that it was C Morse code and that Pippa is the correct answer.

我询问这种新的通信方式是什么，你回答说那就是C·莫尔斯电码，而皮帕就是正确答案。

55. OK, let's recap the vocabulary we've learned starting with the exclamation, oh man, used to show excitement or enthusiasm.

好的，让我们回顾一下我们所学过的词汇。首先是从感叹词“哦，天哪”开始，这个词用来表达兴奋或热情。

56. To shatter an illusion is to destroy someone's misconceptions, causing them to realise an unpleasant reality.

打破一种错觉，其实就是消除某人的误解，使他们不得不面对一个令人不快的现实。

57. A cultural happening is an event that embodies the values and interests of a particular social group at a particular time.

一种文化现象是指在特定时期能够体现某一特定社会群体价值观与利益诉求的活动或事件。

58. A behemoth is an extremely large and powerful company or organisation.

一个庞然大物是指一家规模极其庞大且实力强大的公司或组织。

59. A novelty is something which is new and unusual and therefore exciting.

新奇事物是指那些新颖且不寻常，因而能引发人们兴趣的事物。

60. And finally, if you gravitate towards something, you are naturally attracted to it.

最后，如果你对某事物产生了兴趣，那么你自然会被它吸引。
